

“100 for $100,000.00”

We choose this name for our campaign because it embodies the idea of how many people working together for a common goal can accomplish a great thing. Raising $100,000.00 for the CAE will help secure the future of the Columbus area by increasing the amount of our annual charitable grants.

“The Columbus Area Endowment is a cost efficient way to give back to our community. Grants from the general endowment have been used to assist in funding many community projects dear to us. We encourage your contribution to the 100 for $100,000 campaign.”

“Grow with us”

Making the Columbus Area a
Better Place to Live, Learn,
Work & Play

Our History

The Columbus Area Endowment (CAE) was established in 2008. The CAE makes direct annual grants to qualified organizations in the Columbus area and brings awareness to philanthropy in the community. All contributions to CAE are tax deductible.

The CAE is a regional giving partner of the Madison Community Foundation which provides access to field expertise, investment services, administrative services, marketing opportunities and legal status in an efficient and effective manner.

How the money grows

Principal is preserved while a portion of the earnings (approximately 5%) is available annually for charitable purposes. Other earnings protect the fund from inflation and cover fees - ensuring the fund is as valuable to future generations as it is today.

Why should you give?

- You support area charities
- You help create a lasting legacy for you, your family and the whole area
- You keep the focus local
- You build community spirit
- You receive personal fulfillment
- You improve the quality of life in your community

How does this work?

- Columbus area residents make tax deductible contributions to CAE. Gifts may be made in cash, securities, real estate, life insurance, and retirement accounts.
- Contributions are held in a separate fund (CAE) and dedicated to support the Columbus area forever.
- CAE funds are invested for long-term growth. The CAE Executive Committee selects grant recipients to receive charitable resources.
- Over time CAE grows to become a consistent major resource for the Columbus area.
